

WOULD BE GRANTED TO WILL GIVE PRIZES FOR BEAUTY SPOTS

M. L. Stewart, Director of Commercial Club Publicity Bureau Is Outlining Plans for the Competition.

Resources are Great Award Fund Swelled

Geographical Situation Affords Easy Access to Wonderful Oriental Market.

Citizens May Receive Substantial Sums for Improving Own Yards.

Plans for the awarding of prizes in the beauty spot campaign in Salt Lake were discussed at yesterday's meeting of the governing committee of the Commercial club publicity bureau.

The committee favored awards in two series, as follows: First—A grand prize of $100, a prize of $50 and various other classified prizes in nominal sums, for the best appearing yards in the city, providing the yards have been improved or kept by the owner or some one connected with the family. Second—A grand prize of $50, a prize of $25 and various other classified prizes for best improvements of vacant lots in the city.

Discussing Programme.

A competition programme will probably be drawn up and details arranged for the campaign before the winter is over. The date upon which the campaign will end and the prizes awarded hereafter will be definitely decided upon.

The bureau appropriated an additional $50 to the prize fund, which is thereby swelled to $100 and $50 on hand. When the city commissioners are approached for an appropriation it is expected that the amount will be doubled.

Not Asking Aid.

"We are not asking aid from the government to establish our information bureau in New York. We are going to foot the bill of establishment and maintenance ourselves. What we want is to have in the United States headquarters to which application for accurate information may be made. We want to correct wrong impressions and to disseminate useful and accurate knowledge concerning the actual conditions that prevail in the islands."

Close to the Orient.

"From Manila we can reach China in two days, Japan in three and one-half days, India in five days and Australia in ten days. It is at the city of Manila that we expect to establish a mighty distributing center for the products of the Orient. In the commercial competition for trade with China, as between the United States, Great Britain, Germany, France, and Japan, this country has always labored under a heavy handicap. Whereas England, Germany and France have had extensive depots of supply within easy reach, this country's merchants endeavoring to do business in China have been obliged to rely upon the few small depots for the delivery of goods ordered. With the establishment of a base of supply at Manila, our merchants will be able to compete with the foreigner on a level."

China Great Market.

"China is only just beginning to awaken from a lethargy which has extended over centuries. The Chinese are a mighty people. There are 400,000,000 of them to come to the markets of the world. China, Japan, India and Australia are today buying 500,000,000 worth of imported manufactures and products annually. Out of this vast total United States business houses get but 5 per cent."

Wonderful Resources.

"Our resources in the Philippine islands are not realized in anywhere near an adequate degree as to their extent. We are the greatest beneficiary of the world. Our copra industry has grown in the past five years from sales amounting to $50,000,000 to $100,000,000 and is increasing. We have produced and are producing thousands of acres of the most productive sugar cane in the world. There are 1,000,000 acres of rice in the islands and 500,000 acres of rubber. These are the products of the islands and these are the products of the islands. We are the greatest beneficiary of the world. Our copra industry has grown in the past five years from sales amounting to $50,000,000 to $100,000,000 and is increasing. We have produced and are producing thousands of acres of the most productive sugar cane in the world. There are 1,000,000 acres of rice in the islands and 500,000 acres of rubber. These are the products of the islands and these are the products of the islands."

Schools Are Excellent.

"At Manila we have a splendid educational system, a large number of new public buildings and business houses, and a progressive system of personal hygiene. The city is continually under way and accomplishing. We have 250 miles of fine roads, nearly 600 miles of railroads, and a number of splendid docks and breakwaters in the harbor. We have done our share in bringing about all these improvements, and we want the co-operation of the people of the United States to assist us in establishing for them at Manila a mercantile supply station for the greatest of the world's industrial markets."

Democracy Will Meet Tomorrow

Tomorrow night in the Hooper building there is to be a meeting of the special committee of thirty-one Democrats appointed by the Salt Lake county committee.

At this meeting reports are expected from the members concerning the state of the county. The meeting is being held as a preliminary move to thorough organization of the forces in Salt Lake. The committee is also planning a campaign, and an invitation to all interested Democrats to join their fellow partisans in this gathering.

Fear for Mormons in Mexico Allayed

President Joseph F. Smith of the Mormon church yesterday received a telegram from Elder Anthony W. Ivins, now in Mexico, which is of a more optimistic nature than was the letter recently received from Mr. Ivins.

At this time, Mr. Ivins says, quiet prevails in the vicinity of the Mormon settlements in Mexico, and he continues to feel that if the great mass of Mexicans can be kept in peaceful mood in the state of Sonora, there will be little difficulty in keeping the peace in other states surrounding.

New Company Enters Utah.

Another insurance company was admitted to do business in this state yesterday, when Willard D. Jones, state insurance commissioner, approved the application of the German-American indemnity company of Denver. The company was incorporated December 29, 1910, but did not begin its active business career until January 2 last. The company is incorporated at $100,000. The officers are: C. H. Barrett, president; M. D. Brown, secretary; and E. N. Mitchell, treasurer, all of Denver.

HALF-MILLION TO BE SPENT IN IMPROVEMENTS

City Commission Virtually Reaches Conclusion on Year's Improvements.

Portions of Large Number of Thoroughfares Included in List.

Approximately a half-million dollars will be spent during the remainder of the year in street improvements in Salt Lake City. At an executive meeting of the city commission held yesterday, a programme of street improvements was agreed upon which will call for the expenditure of practically all of the sum set aside for the payment of the city's share of street improvements. This will amount to more than $125,000 and as the city pays approximately one-fourth of the cost, the total will reach the half-million mark.

Streets to be improved under the schedule tentatively adopted yesterday are as follows:

Fourth South from Second East to Fifth East; Fourth South from West Temple to Rio Grande street; Seventh South from Main to Fifth East; Ninth South from Fifth East to Sixth East; Third West from Third South to Sixth South; Second South from Tenth East to Twelfth East; West Temple from Ninth South to Tenth South; D from South Temple to Third Avenue; F from South Temple to Third Avenue; also every street from 1 to 10, inclusive, due from South Temple to Third Avenue, with the exception of N street, which extends to Fourth Avenue, the entire length of the city center.

Selected by Petition.

Selection of the streets to be paved was largely influenced by petitions of property owners on these streets. The use of E street owners to present a petition resulted in the omission of that street from the list, but it is thought that the petition will result in the street being paved in the future.

A large item of expense in the contemplated improvements is the changes to be made in the water mains. Two mains are to be laid on all streets to be improved. The present water lines must be replaced and in many places the mains must be lowered.

Would Sell to City.

The Verona water company, through John M. Whitaker, offers a plot of rights to the city. A supply of 14,000 gallons a day is derived from springs in the south-east section of the city and the company has fifty-four patrons each of whom pay $12 a year. The proposition was submitted to the city commission, street commissioner and city engineer for investigation.

Refund Is Denied.

H. Eckstein of 57 Commercial street has applied for a refund of license, stating that he had been ordered to pay $100 for a license, but that the city commission had refused to issue a license. The city commission has refused to refund the license fee.

Notice of Intent to Make a Sewer Extension.

A notice of intent to make a sewer extension from Ninth South street to the city limits was filed yesterday. The extension is to be made on the east side of the city and will be a public highway according to law.

CONCERT WILL BE TREAT FOR PUBLIC

Best Artists of City Will Aid Children in St. Patrick's Day Programme.

Daily rehearsals are held at the Salt Lake theater by the children and young people who will take part in the concert at the theater Saturday evening, March 16, for the benefit of the Keams-St. Ann's orphanage. The best professional talent of the city will assist the children. From St. Ann's will appear a group of girls and boys, each singing a solo. Many Utah children will be seen on stage and the programme will be varied and interesting. Tickets for the concert are now on sale at all the leading drug stores, St. Mary's cathedral and the Salt Lake theater. For the parquet and dress circle the tickets are $1, for the first and second balconies 50 cents and for the gallery 25 cents. Tickets can be exchanged for reserved seats Friday and Saturday after 10 o'clock at the theater.

NINETY DAYS PENALTY ON MODIFIED PLEA

Paul Keramidas, convicted in the Third district court of the charge of assault, was sentenced by Judge Loftis to ninety days in the county jail. Keramidas was originally charged with assault with intent to murder, but the charge was changed to simple assault to which he pleaded guilty. Keramidas and a countryman engaged in a quarrel in which several pistol shots were exchanged without injury.

SARAH M. CANNON CALLED BY DEATH

Wife of Prominent Churchman, Widely Known for High Ideals.

Death called Mrs. Sarah M. Cannon, wife of Angus M. Cannon, former president of Salt Lake stake in the Mormon church, at her home in Forest Dale early yesterday morning. Mrs. Cannon would have been eighty-four years old next July, and the greater part of her long span of life was spent in Utah.

The end had been expected for several days, the aged woman having entered into an inevitable decline three weeks ago. Death was due to the infirmities of advanced years, though she retained full possession of her mental powers until a few hours before the end. About her bedside were many of her immediate family.

Mrs. Cannon was born in Centerville, Del., July 21, 1828. With her parents and brothers and sisters she came to Utah in one of the hand cart companies that arrived in the valley in 1857. A year later she married Angus M. Cannon and lived with him in Salt Lake for the next three years.

When the church leaders decided to send out parties to settle southern Utah Mr. and Mrs. Cannon accompanied the party that made its way into what is now Washington county, and founded St. George, of which town Angus M. Cannon was the first mayor. The family lived there until 1887, and then returned to Salt Lake.

Mrs. Cannon was the mother of six children, two of whom died in infancy. She was a woman of generous impulses, big heart and of many virtues. During her earlier years she was prominent in the pioneer development of the state, and took an active interest in the work of the church and the kind regard of the community.

The funeral will be held from the Forest Dale meeting house Friday at 1 p. m.

"BOOS" SLOGAN OF READY ASSOCIATION

Meeting Held With Newspaper Men to Determine on Line of Action.

Views are exchanged Committee to Be Named Confer With Press on Matters of Publicity.

He who is boastless, let him be speechless!

United, systematic and efficient in highest degree is to be the promulgator of the doctrine of boos for Utah.

This was a meeting of the association at which representatives of the four lake daily newspapers were guests. Newspapermen who were present and addressed the association were H. Whitney, general manager of the Salt Lake News; Frank P. Gallagher, managing editor of The Tribune; George Hale, business manager of the Salt Lake Republic; and Edward A. Vandewater, managing editor of the Telegram.

After a thorough discussion, Charles T. Ting was empowered by the association to appoint a committee of members to confer with members of local newspaper publishers' association upon all matters of publicity affecting interests of the state. Chairman Ting requested and was given time to his selections, and he will announce committee in a day or two.

Unity of Action Needed.

It was agreed that in order effect to promote the best interests of the state in every department of activity, the members of the association should unite in a common action. To that end, the real estate of this city was determined to unite this co-operative plan. Every thing that can be said and done in half of the state is to be promoted by the unity of action and by combination of effort for Utah's welfare.

Added to this special business was appointment of a committee of investigation to investigate the claims of Fremont to admission as a part of the municipality of Salt Lake. This committee is composed of H. S. Anderson, V. A. Bennett and C. H. Carlquist.

Another Suggestion.

A committee of three, consisting of H. Parsons, A. R. Bell and C. H. Carlquist, was named to investigate the proposal of the city commission to invest street rental to all wholesale firms of the city with the privilege of stringing to cross any portion of the city with the tracks of the houses near the railroad.

As soon as Chairman Ting shall name the committee, the members of the association will meet with representatives of the newspapers in this city will be arranged at which a boos programme for the state will be continued and reported to the association.
